Indspire Fundraising Event Toolkit

September 2021

Charity BN/Registration #11883 4696 RR0001

Greetings,

Tawâw. Taanshi. ᐱᓄᓐᓴᐱᓐ. Boozhoo

These are Cree, Michif (Métis), Inuktitut and Anishinaabe words – just a few of the many languages spoken by Indigenous Peoples in Canada – we offer them to you today to say “Welcome”, as a partner of Indspire. Indspire is truly appreciative that you have chosen us for your fundraising event.

Included in this package is a step by step guide to help you create a successful event.

For more than 35 years, Indspire, a leading Indigenous-led registered charity has invested in the education of Indigenous people for the long-term benefit of these individuals, their families and communities, and Canada. Through collaboration with supporters like you, Indspire is able to educate, connect with and invest in Indigenous people across Canada so they can achieve their highest potential.

Thank you once again for your continued support of Indspire.

Sincerely,

Mike DeGagné
President and CEO
Indspire

Indigenous Education in Canada

In an increasingly interconnected world, Canada is in a global race for talent. Fortunately, Canada has a ready supply of labour, energy and enterprise right here at home.

Indigenous peoples are the fastest growing demographic cohort, and they are younger than the Canadian average. More than 130,000 Indigenous people aged 17–51 will be eligible to attend post-secondary university by 2023. They are a key piece of Canada's economic engine. In fact, the Centre for the Study of Living Standards estimates that if we close the education and labour market gaps for Indigenous people in Canada by 2031, Canada's GDP could gain $36 billion.

Indspire is an Indigenous national charity that invests in the education of First Nations, Inuit and Métis people for the long-term benefit of these individuals, their families and communities, and Canada. With the support of its funding partners, Indspire provides financial awards, delivers programs and shares resources so that First Nations, Inuit, and Métis students will achieve their highest potential.

Indspire provides hundreds of scholarships, bursaries and awards to thousands of Indigenous students every year through its Building Brighter Futures Program. Since 2004, Indspire has provided over $115 million in financial support to more than 37,500 First Nations, Inuit and Métis students. Ninety per cent of students who have received funding have graduated from a post-secondary institution. Fifty per cent of graduates continue toward another post-secondary credential, and most importantly, 50 per cent of employed recipients work in fields that support Indigenous people.

As a society and a country, we have the responsibility to ensure all our students have what they need to follow their dreams and make the most of future opportunities. Not only is this vital to advancing reconciliation, but it will also make our country stronger, more innovative and more inclusive. It will make us all better able to thrive in a changing world and a shifting global economy.

Indspire Fundraising Event Toolkit

Firstly, thank you for your interest in hosting an event in support of Indspire! Organizing an event is a fun and fulfilling experience and we are thrilled that you have chosen to support Indspire. Hosting Your Event

The following steps outline how to create and execute a successful event:

Type of Event

Before you start it's important to know what kind of event you'd like to host, once you know that, you can get planning!

Compliance

When planning your event, please be mindful that:

- All fundraising events comply with federal, provincial and local laws governing charitable fundraising
- You have checked with local authorities to determine unique requirements for each type of event, before submitting your proposal
- Indspire reserves the right to decline support from organizations that are in conflict with our mission

Event Details

Once you know what type of event you'll be hosting, you will need to confirm the event details:

- Select a location that is convenient for you and your attendees
- When selecting your event date, research other events happening in your area to make sure that your event doesn't conflict with another
- Be mindful of holidays, weather (time of year), transportation issues and the number of participants you plan to host
- Determine the name, date and time of the event and find an appropriate venue to meet your needs

Register Your Event

Once you have a clear idea of the event you would like to host, please fill out the Third Party Event Application Form included in this package and submit it to Indspire. Once the form has been submitted, you will be contacted by an Indspire representative to review your event plans, share any materials you may need, and answer any questions that you may have. The form is at the end of this document.

Create a Budget

Creating a budget is an important part of the planning process. It helps you to create a financial goal for your event, as well as plan for appropriate expenses. Brainstorm and identify your possible sources of income (ticket sales, sponsorship, promotional draw, etc.) and an estimate of all potential expenses, including venue costs, decoration, food, entertainment.

Execution

To ensure that your event runs smoothly you should:

- Organize a committee
- Create a detailed event plan
- Assign and delegate tasks prior to and during your event
- Document your event with photos and videos

Be sure to create your Event Plan in advance, so that you are staffed accordingly with enough volunteers to ensure a successful event.

Promote Your Event

Once your event details are confirmed, it's time to reach out to the community. There are plenty of free ways to promote your event to increase attendance and revenue.

Share it on social media:

- Leverage free platforms, like Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and YouTube to help reach people online and share information about your event
- Create an event listing on Facebook where you can invite your fans, friends and family to attend
- Tag @Indspire in all of your social media posts (our name should pop up after the "@" symbol as you type) so we can comment, like and share your event with our network on social media and through our e-newsletters
- Tag all social posts with #Indspire, #IndspireEvent, etc.
- Keep in touch with us at @Indspire on Twitter, our Indspire Facebook page and our Indspire Instagram so we can help promote your event!

Contact your local media (newspaper, radio and TV stations):

- Ensure you include all your key event details (date, time, place, cause)
- Tell them why you created this event - explain why you've decided to support Indspire and why it's important to you/your community
- Be sure to mention that this event is being held for charity. Many local media outlets will mention your event for free, if the proceeds go to support a charitable cause.

Logos and Promotional Communications

To help give your materials a professional touch, Indspire can provide you with a digital copy of our logo for use on your event materials including brochures, posters, social media and the website for your event.

NOTE: Prior to printing, Indspire must approve any promotional materials that feature our logo.

Indspire should be identified as the beneficiary of the event, not the sponsor. For example, you would characterize a golf tournament as “The ___ Golf Tournament benefitting Indspire.”

NOTE: You are welcome to respond to any media inquiries regarding your specific fundraising event/activity. However, all media inquiries regarding Indspire, our work, our programming or any staff members must be referred directly to your Indspire contact.

Included in this package are key messages for Indspire. It is important to use some of these messages to develop communications materials for your event that connect your audience to the cause.

Laureate, Student and Staff Ambassadors

It may be possible to secure an Indspire laureate, student or staff ambassador to speak at your event and share their experiences as beneficiaries or employees of the organization. They can really help strengthen your audience’s connection to the cause and help create a more successful event.

If you are interested in working with one of our ambassadors, please indicate on the application form or contact Carley Gallant-Jenkins, Senior Development Officer at cgallant@indspire.ca

Thank Participants

The people who support and attend your event are key to your success. You should thank and acknowledge those who participated in or supported your event. Let them know how much you appreciate their support and how you couldn't have done it without them!

There are many ways to thank your supporters including personalized thank you cards or letters, phone calls or emails, video messages, personalized mentions on your social media outlets and special gifts as a token of your appreciation.

Remit Funds

Indspire requires that all proceeds must be received no later than 30 days after your event. It is important to submit the funds you raised within this deadline to ensure proper tax receipting.

Please note:

- Official tax receipts will only be issued in accordance with Canada Revenue Agency guidelines. Visit www.cra-arc.gc.ca for more information.

Share Your Success!

We want to hear all about your event. Please send us photos and some notes detailing the event highlights so we can share in your success. To celebrate your achievement Indspire may use your photos and stories in an upcoming newsletter, e-blast, social media post or on our website so be sure to get permission from attendees to document (Post a sign at your event that says: Photos and video will be taken during this event and may be used by Indspire for promotional purposes).

Past Events

Indspire is fortunate to have many wonderful and passionate supporters. Over the past year we've had generous donations made in support of Indspire through birthday parties, bike rides, bake sales, book sales, and other fundraising initiatives. We're grateful to everyone who has organized these events to support Indspire's mission.

Eliza and Andrew decided to give to Indspire through their birthday party. EchoAge allows supporters to celebrate milestones while splitting their gifts with a charity of their choice. Eliza and Andrew chose Indspire because, as their mom put it, “as a First Nations family, it was amazing to see Indspire as an option for contribution. The education of First Nations, Métis & Inuit individuals & communities are so underserved, yet incredibly deserving; a very worthy cause! Miigwech (Thank you) for the support!” Through this endeavour, along with giving to Indspire, Eliza received a Wellie Wishers doll and Andrew received an Avengers Lego set for their birthday. Erik Pavey cycled 4000km across Canada, raising over $6,000 for Indspire through CanadaHelps, which allows supporters to create fundraising pages easily that they can share with their friends and family. Erik did his cross-country cycle on his own and took precautions to maintain social distancing. Erik chose Indspire because he wanted to choose a charity that “had tangible and long-lasting benefits for Indigenous People”. After seeing our student success stories, he could see the difference Indspire was making. “I felt confident that the donations being made were an investment in Indigenous students, and an investment in Indigenous people as a whole. The fundraiser motivated me to continue riding through some tough days knowing that it was for a great cause!” To learn more about creating your own CanadaHelps fundraiser click here.

Promote Your Fundraiser and Collect Funds

Indspire uses a few giving platforms that allow our supporters to share and promote their events and raise funds for us in a way they find most suits their needs. Below are some of the most common giving platforms we use and ways to send your funds to Indspire.

CanadaHelps

On CanadaHelps it's easy to create your own page and share the link with your network. Click on this link to learn more about fundraising with CanadaHelps and to get started on creating your own fundraiser.

ECHOAge

Through ECHOAge you can create an online invitation to the event of your choice (birthday party, baby shower, weddings, etc.). Guests are then able to give online and the funds are split between the charity of your choice and your group gift(s). ECHOAge also always you to invite guests and manage RSVPs and contributions online, allowing you to message guests directly or chat on the party message board. Click on this link to learn more about fundraising with ECHOAge and to get started creating your own party through them.

Donate to Indspire online

Depending on what kind of event you're holding, you may prefer that each participant donates directly to Indspire online. This is a great option. We often have supporters who If you want to donate this way but also want to let us know which event you're giving through, a great option is to have your group enter in an agreed upon phrase into the "What motivated you to give" field on our giving page. For example, if your event is Yoga in the Park, you can ask your participants to enter

"Yoga in the Park" under that field while making their online gift so we know that's where the funds came from.

Send a cheque to Indspire

If you're holding an event and collecting the funds yourself, for example, if you have donation boxes at your venue, you can tally up the funds and send us a cheque made payable to Indspire with reference/memo of your third party event (i.e. Bake Sale, Corporate Walk) and mail to:
