To the Board of Directors of Indspire:

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Indspire (the "Organization"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2026, and the statements of operations and changes in fund balances for the operating and restricted funds and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Organization as at March 31, 2026, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Organization in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Organization or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Organization's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Organization to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

With the support of its funding partners, Indspire disburses financial awards, delivers programs, and shares resources with the goal of closing the gap in Indigenous education. It provides resources to First Nations, Inuit and Métis students, educators, communities, and other stakeholders who are committed to improving educational success for Indigenous youth. In 2025-26, Indspire awarded $33.1 million through approximately 9,673 bursaries and scholarships to Indigenous students, making it the largest funder of Indigenous education outside the federal government. Each year, Indspire presents the Indspire Awards, an awards celebration of the successes achieved by Indigenous people that is broadcast nationally. Indspire is exempt from both federal and provincial income taxes. These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-For-Profit Organizations ("ASNPOs").

2. Significant accounting policies

The investment assets are used to create and conserve a pool of capital from which Indspire can draw to meet the ongoing needs to provide financial assistance for post-secondary studies through awards and scholarships. The Operating Fund reports unrestricted resources to Indspire.

(b) Revenue recognition

Operating grants are recorded as revenue in the period to which they relate. Grants approved but not received at the end of an accounting period are accrued. Where a portion of a grant relates to a future period, it is deferred and recognized in that subsequent period.

Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue of the appropriate restricted fund.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Contributions subject to endowment restrictions are recognized as revenue of the applicable externally restricted fund. The principal of such contributions is maintained in accordance with the terms of the applicable endowment agreement.

Investment income earned on restricted resources is recognized as revenue of the applicable restricted fund.

Other investment income is recognized as revenue of the operating fund.

(c) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand and short-term deposits which are highly liquid with original maturities of less than one year. Cash and cash equivalents include amounts subject to external restrictions as described in Note 8.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued)

(d) Investments

Investments quoted in an active market are measured at fair market value. Changes in fair market value are recognized in the statement of operations and changes in fund balances of the applicable fund.

(e) Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with ASNPOs requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenditures during the year. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the carrying amount of capital assets and the allocation of expenditures. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(f) Capital assets

Purchased capital assets are recorded at cost. Contributed capital assets are recorded at fair value at the date of contribution. Assets acquired under capital leases are amortized over the estimated life of the assets or over the lease term, as appropriate. Repairs and maintenance costs are charged to expenditures. Betterments which extend the estimated life of an asset are capitalized. When a capital asset no longer contributes to Indspire's ability to provide services, its carrying amount is written down to its residual value.

Leasehold improvements are amortized on the straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Capital assets in progress are amortized in the year they come into use.

(g) Contributed services

A substantial number of volunteers contribute a significant amount of their time each year. Because of the difficulty of determining the fair value, contributed services by volunteers are not recognized in the financial statements.

Other contributed services are reflected in the financial statements when such services would otherwise have been purchased and their value can be determined.

(h) Financial instruments

The Organization recognizes financial instruments when the Organization becomes party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument.

Arm's length financial instruments

Financial instruments originated/acquired or issued/assumed in an arm's length transaction ("arm's length financial instruments") are initially recorded at their fair value.

At initial recognition, the Organization may irrevocably elect to subsequently measure any arm's length financial instrument at fair value. The Organization has elected to measure investments quoted in an active market at fair value, with changes recognized in the applicable fund.

Investments in equity instruments not quoted in an active market and derivatives that are linked to, and must be settled by delivery of, unquoted equity instruments of another entity, are subsequently measured at cost less impairment. With the exception of financial liabilities indexed to a measure of the Organization's performance or value of its equity and those instruments designated at fair value, all other financial assets and liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost.

Transaction costs and financing fees are added to the carrying amount for those financial instruments subsequently measured at cost or amortized cost.

Transaction costs and financing fees directly attributable to the origination, acquisition, issuance or assumption of related party financial instruments are immediately recognized in excess of revenue over expenditures.

Financial asset impairment

The Organization assesses impairment of all its financial assets measured at cost or amortized cost. The Organization groups assets for impairment testing when available information is not sufficient to permit identification of each individually impaired financial asset in the group; there are numerous assets affected by the same factors; no asset is individually significant. Management considers whether the issuer is having significant financial difficulty, and whether there has been a breach in contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments, in determining whether objective evidence of impairment exists. When there is an indication of impairment, the Organization determines whether it has resulted in a significant adverse change in the expected timing or amount of future cash flows during the year.

The Organization reduces the carrying amount of any impaired financial assets to the highest of: the present value of cash flows expected to be generated by holding the assets; the amount that could be realized by selling the assets at the statement of financial position date; and the amount expected to be realized by exercising any rights to collateral held against those assets.

Any impairment, which is not considered temporary, is included in current year excess of revenue over expenditures.

The Organization reverses impairment losses on financial assets when there is a decrease in impairment and the decrease can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognized. The amount of the reversal is recognized in excess of revenue over expenditures in the year the reversal occurs.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued)

(i) Allocation of expenditures

Indspire records a number of its expenditures by program. The costs of each program include the costs of personnel, premises and other expenditures that are directly related to providing the program.

Indspire allocates certain general support expenditures by identifying the appropriate basis of allocating each expenditure (refer to the revenue and expenditures schedules by program for the details). Such allocations are reviewed by management on a regular basis.

3. Bank indebtedness

Indspire has an operating line of credit of $750,000, increasing to $1,000,000 for the period January 1 to April 30 annually, bearing interest at the prime rate plus 1.50%. As security, Indspire has provided a general assignment of all assets. As at March 31, 2026, the amount drawn against the credit facility was $nil ($nil in 2025).

8. Fund balances

The Operating Fund holds monies for use because of unforeseen events, adverse financial conditions, reduced funding, interruptions in funding and temporary cash fluctuations. Some of the amounts in the Operating Fund are held in investments.

Externally Restricted Funds hold monies that are set aside for scholarships and bursaries as per the terms of Fund Sponsor Agreements. All of the amounts in Externally Restricted Funds are held in cash and cash equivalents and investments. At March 31, 2026, certain recently established externally restricted funds had not yet been fully invested and, accordingly, a portion of the related assets was held in cash and cash equivalents.

The Internally Restricted Fund holds monies that are set aside for scholarships, bursaries and supporting programming. The way monies held in the Internally Restricted Fund are used is the sole discretion of the Board of Directors. Some of the amounts in the Internally Restricted Fund are held in investments.

9. Awards and scholarships

Awards and scholarships for the year ended March 31, 2026 amounted to $33,080,567 ($31,683,031 in 2025). These expenditures have been made through the operating fund in the amount of $30,413,319 ($29,255,354 in 2025) and the restricted funds in the amount of $2,667,248 ($2,427,677 in 2025). Awards and scholarships amounts presented on the statement of operations and changes in fund balances – restricted fund include administrative fees which are deducted prior to disbursement to the recipients.

10. Pension agreement

Indspire participates in a defined contribution pension plan with eligible employees. Indspire matches contributions up to a maximum of 9% of individual employee gross earnings. A financial institution administers the pension plan assets. During the year, Indspire incurred pension expenditures totaling $250,246 ($166,999 in 2025).

11. Financial risks

(a) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that Indspire will be unable to fulfill its obligations on a timely basis or at a reasonable cost. Indspire manages its liquidity risk by monitoring its operating requirements. Indspire prepares budget and cash forecasts to ensure it has sufficient funds to fulfill its obligations. There has been no change to the risk exposures from 2025.

(b) Market risk

Market risk is the potential for loss from changes in the value of financial instruments.

The value of a financial instrument can be affected by changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity and commodity prices and credit spreads. Indspire is exposed to market risk in the investments held as well as through non-trading activities. Market risk in investment activities is managed by the management of Indspire. Every investment transaction is guided by policy and regulatory limitations. There has been no change to the risk exposures from 2025.

(c) Interest rate risk

Indspire is exposed to interest rate risk on its fixed interest rate financial instruments which are included in Note 4. There has been no change in interest rate risk exposure with declining interest rates offset by general economic conditions and uncertainty.

(d) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss because a counterparty to a financial instrument fails to discharge its contractual obligations. The Organization is exposed to credit risk from its financial assets including cash and cash equivalents and accounts receivable.

The Organization holds its cash and cash equivalents in accounts with chartered financial institutions.

Accounts receivable are from federal and provincial governments, corporations and individuals. The Organization measures its exposure to credit risk based on how long amounts have been outstanding and follow-up collection activity. Credit risk is mitigated by a highly diversified nature of debtors and other customers which minimizes the Organization's concentration of credit risk.

Certain comparative figures have been reclassified to conform with current year's presentation.
